

CONCLUSION

These were a number of handpicked lessons and choosen benefits, which aid the pilgrim in his Hajj to the House of Allaah, al-Haraam. Hajj as has previously been mentioned, is full of great lessons, splendid advice and practical benefits.

The exception is that the people in their achieving and gaining these lessons are of different levels depending upon how much their hearts can hold. There is a big heart which expands to hold a lot of knowledge, like a large valley which extends to hold a lot of water. Then there is small heart, like a small valley which holds a small amount of knowledge. Finally there is a heart unaware and flooded with neglect, so knowledge finds no place in that heart.

The capability is only from Allaah alone, so we ask Allaah that He favours us with beneficial knowledge and good actions, and that our hearts are filled with obediance to Him. Indeed He Tabaraka wa Ta'ala hears all supplications, He is the One that we put our trust in, and He is sufficent for us and the best Guardian.

All Praise belongs to Allaah, may His peace and blessings be upon our final Prophet Muhammad, his family, his companions
and all those who follow his guidance.